The Surveys of Bermuda: The first maps of Bermuda were drawn without land surveys – they were rough and inaccurate. Then, in 1613, a young man named Richard Norwood, sent by the Virginia Company to dive for pearls, produced the first proper map of Bermuda...

Hamilton through the Years 1793-1993: in 1815, Hamilton became the capital of Bermuda. In 1897, by an Act of Parliament, it became a city. Go back in time to trace the story of our capital city of Hamilton.

This event is FREE to the public. Please contact the Department office on 292-1681 to sign up.
